The Alabama Department of Public Health
is a partner of the Public Health Training Network

Faculty will explore patient information leaflets for six of the more commonly dispensed medications in Alabama Department of Public Health clinics. They will also provide information as it relates to important medical conditions, medication contraindications, and precautions with these medications.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

1. Discuss the use of the Patient Information Leaflets (PIL) when dispensing medication such as Zithromax, Rocephin, Doxycycline, Erythromycin, Flagyl, and Bicillin L-A in ADPH clinics.
2. Define the proper use of PILs when dispensing medications in ADPH clinics.
3. Describe the importance of proper patient counseling prior to administering/dispensing medication.
4. List conditions that may contraindicate medication administered and/or dispensed by ADPH nurses.
5. Identify medications that may conflict with those administered/dispensed from the ADPH.
