

Vaccines: They've Got To Be Used To Work – Lessons from the 2015 Measles Outbreak

Satellite Conference and Live Webcast
Tuesday, May 19, 2015
12:00 – 1:30 pm Central Time

Faculty:

David W. Kimberlin, MD
President, Pediatric Infectious Diseases Society
Editor, American Academy of Pediatrics Red Book®
Professor of Pediatrics
Sergio Stagno Endowed Chair in Pediatric Infectious Diseases
The University of Alabama at Birmingham - Children's of Alabama

Objectives:

1. Discuss the American Academy of Pediatrics Committee on Infectious Diseases (Red Book Committee) and Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (ACIP) processes for recommending new immunization schedules
2. Review the scientific data on vaccine safety
3. Review the current epidemiology of measles outbreaks around the United States
4. Discuss strategies to counsel parents effectively on vaccine safety and effectiveness

Disclaimers:

This program is brought to you by the Alabama-Mississippi Public Health Training Center in partnership with the Alabama Department of Public Health. The Alabama-Mississippi Public Health Training Center is part of the HHS Region-IV Public Health Training Center program.

The Region IV Public Health Training Center, headquartered at the Rollins School of Public Health of Emory University, is a Health Resource Service Administration funded program, which seeks to strengthen the public health workforce within HHS Region IV (Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Tennessee). They offer training and continuing education for public health practitioners across the region, provide opportunities for public health students to work in underserved areas, and advocate for public health systems and policies. For more information on the Region IV Public Health Training Center Program, please visit their website at www.sph.emory.edu/departments/centers/public-health-training-center

There is no financial relationship between the planners of this program and the speakers. There is also no commercial support for this program. ADPH does not endorse any product that may be displayed in conjunction with any activity that might be demonstrated, nor will the department discuss any off-label use of products. Please note, the content of this program is based on the policies and procedures of the Alabama Department of Public Health; Alabama and federal statutes, rules, regulations, and guidelines. Viewers not employed by the ADPH should always check to clarify whether the content is accurate according to the statutes, regulations, and policies of your respective jurisdiction or agency.

Questions:

Technical or related to conference details: 334-206-5618 or alphntn@adph.state.al.us
Subject matter before or during broadcast: 1-800-946-6307 or alphntnquestions@adph.state.al.us

Produced by the Alabama Department of Public Health
Video Communications and Distance Learning Division
For a complete list of upcoming programs: www.adph.org/alphntn