Nearly two million American workers report having been victims of workplace violence every year. Workplace violence can happen anywhere, at any time, and healthcare professionals are among those at highest risk. This is why it's important to identify potential risk factors in your work setting and to develop a response plan in the event of a violent situation. Program faculty will discuss ways to not only protect your work environment, but also yourself if danger should arise.

Faculty:

Tony A. Garrett

Community Development Director
Central Alabama Crime Stoppers
