Satellite Conference and Live Webcast

Monday, July 22, 2013, 11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m. (Central Time)

12:00-1:30 p.m. (Eastern) • 10:00-11:30 a.m. (Mountain) • 9:00-10:30 a.m. (Pacific)

Emergencies can happen at any time, anywhere; which is why it's crucial for local government officials and agencies and emergency responders to be prepared to assist all individuals who may be in need. This includes having specific considerations for people with disabilities. The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) requires all preparedness and response programs to include functional access needs for those with disabilities. Program faculty will discuss the law's requirements, explain how it will help agencies update current response plans, and review some of the most common lessons learned from this crucial part of emergency planning and response. Successful strategies, based on the 10 lessons learned, will also be presented.
