

2012 INFECTION CONTROL UPDATE

Satellite Conference and Live Webcast

Wednesday, October 17, 2012 8:30-10:00 a.m. (Central Time)
9:30-11:00 a.m. (Eastern) • 7:30-9:00 a.m. (Mountain) • 6:30-8:00 a.m. (Pacific)

In the healthcare setting there are many opportunities for infectious diseases to be transmitted from one individual to another. Many of these diseases can have life-long impacts.

The 2012 Infection Control Update will explore the latest Center for Disease Control and Prevention guidelines for Standard Precautions, personal protective equipment, and infectious disease prevention. Program faculty will explore the infectious process and provide instructions on how to recognize and manage bloodborne pathogens.

FACULTY

Nadine Crawford, MSN, RN
Infection Control Officer
Alabama Department of Public Health

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

1. Discuss the latest Occupational Health and Safety Administration and CDC guidelines for Standard Precautions, personal protective equipment, and infectious disease prevention in healthcare settings.
2. Identify the primary actions of the infectious process, including transmission.
3. Discuss viral hepatitis characteristics, including signs and symptoms, transmission, and prevention.
