

RSA TOWER Building Access Card Rules and Regulations

RSA Tower Building

1. Proximity cards are issued for parking deck access (and/or) building access. Presenting your card within 4 inches of the front of the proximity reader. Your card is used to enter at the proximity card readers located on the building as though you had a “key” to the building, so care should be taken to protect your card.
2. All cards are assigned individually by bureau/name and are the sole responsibility of the authorized user. These cards are not to be loaned to anyone in your office, the building or to outsiders. Failing to comply with these rules will result in your card being deactivated and your after hour building access privileges being suspended.
3. If you experience problems with your assigned card while trying to access the building, please report this to your office contact person. If your card does not work at one reader, please try another reader because the first reader may be temporarily out of order. Please report any access card reader that is inoperative to your office contact person.
4. If your card is defective or worn through normal use, the RSA Security Office will replace the access card at no charge to the user. Cards that are lost or damaged through neglect will be replaced at a cost of $20 dollars) (check or cash) payable to RSA Real Estate. If a check is returned due to NSF there will be a $25 fee added to the original fee; access will be revoked. Cards that are reported lost will be deactivated. If you later find your access card, please return it to your office contact person.
5. If your employment with this office is terminated, it is your responsibility to return your access card to your employer before leaving so that it can be returned to the issuing office.
