

National Bullying Prevention Month 30 Sec PSA

Did you know that Alabama is among the top 20 states with the biggest bullying problems? These days, bullying goes beyond schoolyard taunting and teasing. With bullying-related youth suicides on the rise, it's important for each of us to do our part to prevent bullying in all forms.

October is National Bullying Prevention Month. By respecting other's differences, advocating for inclusion, and spreading kindness, you can do your part each day to help stop bullying.

For more information, visit our website at Alabama-Public-Health-dot-gov.

For more information, contact: Brandon Vaughn brandon.vaughn@adph.state.al.us / 334-206-2080