

COVID Vaccination 30 Sec PSA #2

With more contagious variants of the Coronavirus now in several states, including Alabama, it's more important than ever to get vaccinated when you are eligible. While vaccine supply is currently limited, it is expected to increase in the weeks and months to come. As vaccination efforts expand across the state, the Alabama Department of Public Health and our partners are working to ensure that any eligible Alabamian interested in being vaccinated has an opportunity to do so as soon as possible.
